

UPPO Forum Subscription Reference Guide

UPPO Forum

As a UPPO Member, you have access to many valuable resources that are available through the UPPO Website at www.uppo.org. One of these valuable resources is the UPPO Forums section that enables members to post questions, answer other members' questions, and exchange topical information related to unclaimed property with other UPPO members.

UPPO's Forums provide an invaluable resource to unclaimed property professionals because they put you in touch with other UPPO members who have experience and expertise in a wide variety of areas.

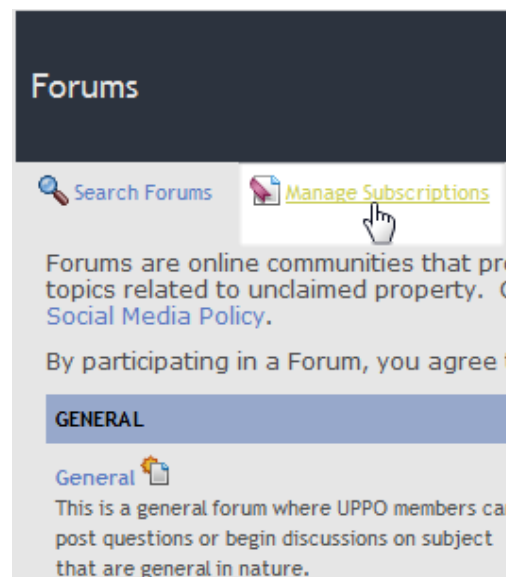

However, In order to get the most benefit from UPPO Forums, members will need to activate their account to receive notifications when new posts are made to one of the Forums.

To activate your account to receive notifications when new information is posted to various Forums, here are the steps to follow:

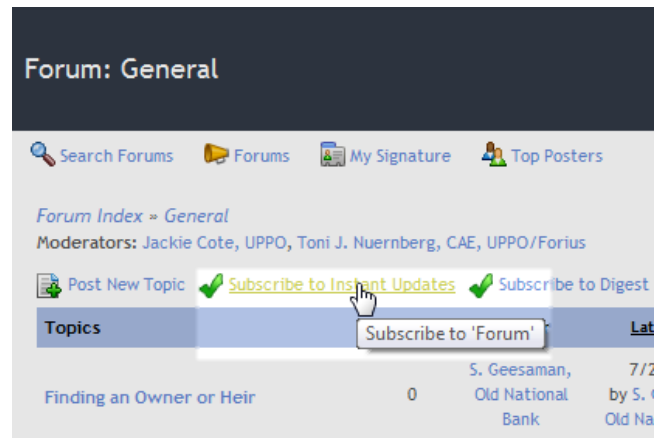

- ✓ From the UPPO Home page, navigate to Forums.

- ✓ If you have not previously activated your account to receive notifications from one or more of the forums, click Manage Subscriptions to modify your notification settings.

- ✓ If you want to be instantly notified when items in a specific Forum change, click the Subscribe to Instant Updates link. Note: You are subscribed if you see a red circle with an x in the center!

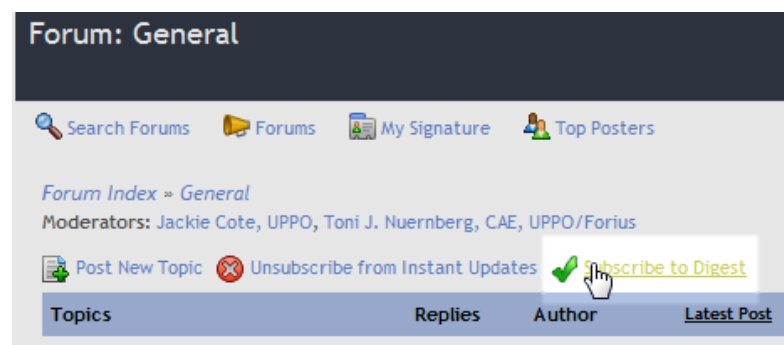

- ✓ If you are subscribed to receive instant forum updates, and want to unsubscribe, click the Unsubscribe from Instant Updates link.

- ✓ You can also subscribe to receive instant updates related to any individual topic posting within a forum. From the topic, just click the Subscribe to Instant Updates link.

- ✓ For just a daily digest (summary) of changes that occur within a forum or topic, just click the Subscribe to Digest link.

That's it! Now you are set to receive Forum notifications and updates. Enjoy!
